Minden Public Schools and all Nebraska Public Schools are measured by a statewide accountability system called AQuESTT (Accountability for a Quality Education System for Today and Tomorrow). This system provides information about educational progress for the state and its school districts.

The system was developed to comply with the federal law ESSA (Every Student Succeed Act). AQuESTT classification combines performance scores on several indicators in order to provide schools and districts with an overall descriptive classification. Snapshots display school and district performances on each accountability indicator.

AQuESTT's classifications recognize schools and districts in six areas:
